

Silverback Learning Solutions Partners with Schlechty Center to Enhance Professional Development

Meridian, Idaho (March 23, 2021) – Silverback Learning Solutions, developer of the professional development platform VITAE, announces its partnership with the Schlechty Center. The Schlechty Center is a private, non-profit organization committed to partnering with education leaders who are interested in nurturing a culture of engagement in their organizations, with the ultimate goal of increasing profound learning for students.

With a joint focus on driving positive outcomes for instructional effectiveness and student growth, the collaboration between Silverback Learning and Schlechty Center will provide additional support to educators working hard to transform their classrooms, schools and school districts. Both companies are committed to creating environments that instill maximum student success while supporting engagement on all levels.

Andrew Klingman, Silverback’s Vice President of Sales and Channel states, “Our partnership with the Schlechty Center creates a great opportunity to bring unique and truly engaging professional development services directly to Silverback Learning’s customers through our award-winning Vitae platform. By connecting mentoring and coaching feedback to timely and relevant learning experiences, our partnership builds on Silverback Learning’s commitment to empowering educators everywhere.”
